DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:
 - Species I, claims 1-7.
 - Species II, claims 8-11.
2. The species are independent or distinct because Species I is geared to the non-rotating embodiment best shown in figure 1; and Species II is geared to the rotating embodiment best shown in figure 8. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
3. During a telephone conversation with D. Torrence, Reg. 34,501 on 6-23-2006 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-7. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims

6. Claims 1 and 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Browning (U.S. 1,304,448). Browning teaches a "bowl" 10, cover 23, and strainer 20 having apertures 21 therein [as in claim 1]. He also teaches the cover to be convex with a flat central portion [as in claim 4]. The top side of the cover includes a handle 24 and the bowls includes a pair of handles 17 [as in claims 5-6]. It is noted that claim 4 is not in combination with a flat surface nor does the "whereby" phrase require the handle to be recessed into the flat center portion.

7. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Clark (U.S. 1,080,262).

Art Unit: 1723

8. Claims 1 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Sarnoff et al. (U.S. 4,941,401).

ABSTRACT

An elongated microwaveable fish poacher comprising a non-metallic, plastic base, rack and cover, and defining a fish poacher interior. The assembled parts present the appearance of a fish, with handles serving as a tail and fins, and cooperate to minimize undesired exchange of air from exterior of the assembled parts within which fish is adapted to be cooked in a microwave oven.

9. Claims 1 and 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Harrison (U.S. 1,330,868).

Fig. 1

10. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Clarkson (U.S. 2,083,147). Clarkson teaches a "bowl" 11 having an open bottom closed by a removable plate (including an annular flange 7), a cover 8 and a strainer therebetween.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

11. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

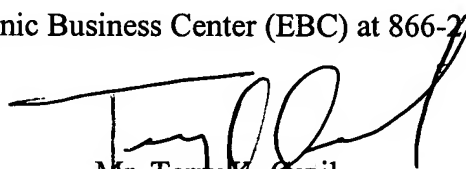

12. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Clarkson.

Clarkson teaches a structure wherein lid 8 can fit in the flange 7 of the bottom plate such that having duplication of parts (which is within ordinary skill, see In re Harza, 274 F.2d 669, 124 USPQ 378 (CCPA 1960)), a second bottom plate would fit with lid 8, a second lid 8 would fit with a bottom plate 7 and a third and fourth (7, 8) would fit with bowl 11. Such would have been obvious in order to have additional cookers not requiring the strainer.
